

freedomRail vs. Rubbermaid (homefree series)

When it comes to a truly adjustable and customizable storage system, freedomRail is the only true solution. The quality, adjustability and value of freedomRail surpasses all other brands.

freedomRail costs more than Rubbermaid today, but not tomorrow. It is much higher in quality, so it provides the most strength, versatility and value for your customer. With 50 percent more steel and the freedom to adjust, your customers will save money in the long run because they will never have to replace their freedomRail storage system.

freedomRail also uses stronger hardware. So fewer pieces are needed, and it takes half the time to install!
